This is all very “Tyresome”...

On three occasions to date the B1190 between the A46 and Doddington village has been plagued by someone dumping old tyres in the ditches, and we’re not talking about an odd one or two, this more than 40 each time. The Chair of the Parish Council recently spoke to BBC Radio Lincolnshire about it and it also hit their news bulletins & Twitter feeds on 13th March saying that the Parish Council would like any information if anyone knew who might be the culprits. The refuse collection dept at NKDC have been fantastic in coming out and collecting these old tyres, which has been something of a hazardous job along an often very dangerous road, and we thank them wholeheartedly for their continued support. Thanks Guys!
